World-first campaign to showcase the reef

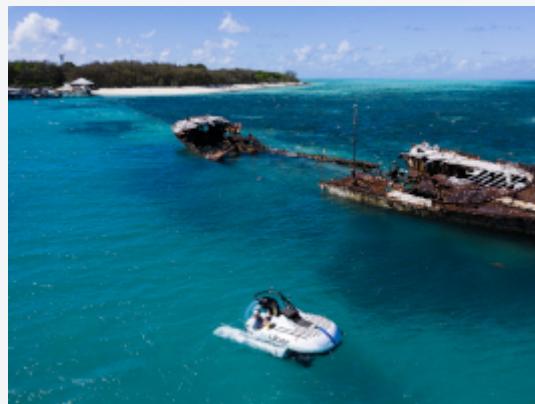

TEQ has today launched a new global campaign promoting the Great Barrier Reef – 'scUber' - the world's first rideshare submarine on the world's greatest natural wonder.

In a unique partnership with rideshare giant Uber, a ride in the scUber submarine will allow travellers to go beyond the limits of conventional diving to explore the Great Barrier Reef at depths of up to 30 metres, with 180-degree views, and all without getting wet. The once-in-a-lifetime experience is bookable through the Uber app, strictly subject to availability.

The scUber promotion aims to showcase the reef and grow awareness by highlighting the diversity and vibrancy of this underwater world and will be supported by a global integrated marketing campaign across digital, out of home, social media, EDMs, influencers and PR.

The supporting campaign will be delivered in key western markets including Australia, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, the USA, Canada and France. Partnering with Uber gives TEQ unprecedented access to millions of loyal Uber users to help tell the story of the Great Barrier Reef to global audiences. Great Barrier Reef holiday packages are also being marketed through key distribution partners in these markets to support the campaign and drive visitation to Queensland. The campaign will also include a consumer competition allowing one winner from each key western source market plus a friend to win a trip of a lifetime to the Great Barrier Reef and ride in scUber.

Telling the reef's story

The Great Barrier Reef continues to rank highly as a desirable holiday destination in Queensland's key international markets and is a significant driver of visitation to Queensland.

It is vital to continue to build a greater understanding of the biodiversity of this remarkable ecosystem – the very basis of its World Heritage listing – which is central to inspiring future visitors.

The scUber promotion aims to tell the story of the reef, showcasing the reef from angles rarely experienced by tourists and giving travellers a profound sense of awe to create new stories about the reef.

Jump onboard

This campaign will generate visually spectacular reef content showcasing the reef from a new angle. To create new stories and share the stunning beauty and biodiversity of the reef, Queensland's tourism industry can play their part by sharing this content through their channels and showing the world why their perfect next holiday is in Queensland – where they too can experience the beauty of the reef together with a diverse range of holiday experiences across the state.

Our guide on how to leverage this campaign will help you make sure that the whole of Queensland makes the most of this opportunity.

Take a sneak peek

Ahead of the launch today, we've had videographers and content creators busy at work capturing epic footage of the scUber experience.

Check out the whole experience from mainland pickup to heli-transfer and deep diving into the reef's underwater wonderland.

Business resource

Share your story

Every business has a story to tell and Tourism Tribe's free 'Share your story' service will help you create a shareable story for social media as well as a media release ready for you to distribute.

It would be timely to create a story about your business's link to the Great Barrier Reef - whether a direct link, or a story about how visitors to Queensland can enjoy the reef and other experiences around the state.
